

Independent & Assisted Living Residences

We know how important it is for residents to be comfortable in their own homes. A living facility is a great alternative -- neighbors become best friends, and residents have assurance in knowing they are not alone.

But sometimes a resident may need a little extra help, even in a living facility. Home Companions Senior Care provides services to residents that are not offered by the facility. Our objective is to provide solutions that are appealing to daily living activities.

Move-in Transition and Stabilization

As your resident moves into a new home, we can give assistance while they adjust to the changes.

We can make arrangements from just a few hours to around-the-clock during the first few weeks of the transition.

Quality of Life Enhancement

Allow us the pleasure of helping your residents enjoy life. Home Companions Senior Care provides many programs such as “Your Special Day” that enables your resident to spend their day doing something really special. These days include activities like visiting with family for a holiday, a day of fun shopping, or a lunch outing to their favorite restaurant. In addition, we may provide assistance that your facility does not offer, which can help you keep residents who might otherwise need to move to a more intensive-care facility.
